have in Douglas County is just...isn't just with residential, but it's the equity between commercial-industrial and, in fact, residential. I'm not sure if all of us that signed this petition and understand it also realize that the TERC board, as I understand it, really can't take any moves or make any decisions without a recommendation by the tax commissioner. In fact, the tax commissioner, as I understand it, every year...and somebody correct me if I'm wrong, those of you who are students of the law...that the state tax administrator has to certify values in each one of the 93 counties back to the TERC board. And apparently, the tax administrator never certified, in the case of Douglas County, that there was anything wrong with commercial and industrial values at all. They may have been uniform in Douglas County, because they were all uniformly at about 50 percent of what they should be, probably. And that's not all bad, if you have those kinds of properties. But as you compare that uniformity and equity with residential, of course, therein lies the problem that most of us have with what happens. And I don't think the TERC board can make a decision without a recommendation from the tax administrator. And you know, I'm not going to say much more except that if somebody could help me understand that, and if in fact that's right, I would honestly have to tell all my friends from Douglas County, I would be a little concerned with what we're attempting to do if in fact it would interfere with a procedure and not really change much. Now, if in fact all of the commercial and industrial values throughout the state were within the same area and percentage as they are in Douglas County, that could be also another problem. If all ag values were different, that could also another problem, and so on and so forth. And the way this is written, all residential values in the state...not just in Douglas County...would have to be more uniform, or at least up to what Douglas County is now, before any more increases could be applied to one county. I have to admit momentary concern with this, and I still legitimately have a concern, but I'm also...think we have to understand...

SENATOR COORDSEN: One minute.

SENATOR LYNCH: ...the consequence of this kind of an amendment. And I would like some help, for those of us that signed this amendment, to make sure we thoroughly understand it. And if I'm
